No other medicine is so reliable as

Asa's Cherry Pectoral for colds, coughs, and all derangements of the respiratory organs tending toward consumption. In all ordinary cases it is a certain cure, and it affords relief for the asthmatic and consumptive, even in advanced stages of the disease.

AT a meeting of the new Board of Managers of the Belmont County Agricultural Society held last Friday the board organized by the election of J. B.

Hoge, President; James B. Ritchey,

Vice President; John Pollock, Treasurer, and J. B. Meyer, Secretary. The next Fair will be held September 5th, 6th and 7th, 1893.

OWING to the increase in the revenues of the Belmont County postoffice, it was recently advanced to a Presidential office, and it became necessary for the President to appoint a postmaster. The present incumbent, Mr. J. B. Conley, has been appointed to the position, and has been confirmed by the Senate, for a term of four years. The advancement of the office speaks well for its management.

ON last Thursday afternoon Mrs.

Robert Johnson, of West Wheeling, was crossing the bridge over the creek at Bridgeport, and was frightened by an approaching train and jumped into the water below, a distance of forty feet. She was rescued by Mr. William Nichols, who, at the risk of his own life, rescued her from a watery grave. She was not badly hurt, receiving only a few scratches. A purse of $40 was raised for Mr. Nichols.

THE able historian who wrote the dispatch to the Bellaire Tribune last week, announcing the Legislative Committee's decision on the Wagner County Road bill, was slightly off when he credited Ned at Waterloo with the expression, "Up Guards and at them!"

The expression was used by the Duke of Wellington, Commander of the British armies at Waterloo, to the British guards who were lying behind a ridge, to avoid the shot and shell from the enemy's artillery from the opposite heights.

THE law firm of Rees & Gallagher, Bellaire, has been dissolved, and Mr. James Rees will open an office in the Patterson block in this place, occupying the formerly occupied by I. M. Riley, Esq.

Mr. Rees' family will reside in Col. Mitchell's property, on Main street, west of Martins. We are sure that Mr. Rees and family will receive a hearty welcome to our town, and that he will receive from the people of the county a fair proportion of the legal business.

COMMON PLEAS COURT began on Tuesday, Judge Kelly on the bench. The bar from all sections of the county was well represented, and besides there were several of the judges of the county, and the case of the people of the county, and
